

HOW TO RUN FOR OFFICE 2010

A Guide for Candidates

State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations

Office of the Secretary of State

A. Ralph Mollis

Secretary of State

Dear Candidates and Election Officials:

As Secretary of State, assuring our elections are accessible to those who wish to serve is among my most important duties. I had the privilege of overseeing Rhode Island's record-breaking election season in 2008. We set new highs in voter registrations as well as turnout in a presidential primary and a general election. I hope this year will be just as historic.

This guidebook includes a detailed list of crucial deadlines as well as thorough explanations of the steps those seeking to run for office in Rhode Island must take. You will find basic facts about everything from declarations of candidacy and party affiliation to endorsements and nomination papers. This guide also contains information about campaign finance regulations governed by the Rhode Island Board of Elections and the disclosure forms that must be filed with the Rhode Island Ethics Commission.

In keeping with my pledge to use technology to improve Rhode Islanders' access to government, the guide also is posted on our website at www.sos.ri.gov/elections/forms, where it is available 24/7.

Two other publications from my office may be useful. Election Calendar 2010 details the specific filing deadlines and requirements for the current election cycle. How to Register and Vote includes information on registering to vote, changing your party affiliation and finding your polling place.

Government belongs to the people. The more they know, the better they will govern. If you need additional information, please contact our Elections Division at 401-222-2340, TTY 711 or elections@sos.ri.gov.

Sincerely,

A. Ralph Mollis

Declaration of Candidacy

What is a declaration of candidacy?

The declaration of candidacy is the document you sign to start the process of becoming a candidate. You “declare” yourself as a candidate for a particular office and if you wish to run as a party candidate, you also “declare” yourself to be a member of that party.

Am I eligible to file a declaration of candidacy?

If you are a registered voter who is 18 years of age or older, you may run for any political office in Rhode Island other than senator in Congress, for which the minimum age requirement is 30, or representative in Congress, for which the minimum age requirement is 25.

You are eligible to file a declaration of candidacy as a party candidate if, at the time of filing the declaration of candidacy, you are qualified to vote in the primary within the district for the office which you seek.

You are eligible to file a declaration of candidacy as an independent/unaffiliated candidate if, at the time of filing the declaration of candidacy, you are qualified to vote in the election within the district for the office which you seek.

If you are planning on running under a party label, you must be a member of that particular party or unaffiliated at the time of filing your declaration of candidacy.

What is the deadline to register to vote to be eligible to be a candidate?

In order to run for office in 2010, you must register to vote no later than Friday, May 28.

Do I need to file a declaration of candidacy?

If you wish to start the process of becoming a candidate for any office on the ballot, you must file a declaration of candidacy. The following offices will be on the 2010 ballot:

Federal Public Office:	Representative in Congress
State Public Office:	Governor Lt. Governor Secretary of State Attorney General General Treasurer Senator in General Assembly Representative in General Assembly
Local Public Office*:	Mayor Council School Committee
State Party Committee Office:	Senatorial District Committee Representative District Committee Democratic State Committee
Local Party Committee Office:	City Committee Town Committee Ward Committee

*Contact your local board of canvassers for a full listing of local public offices in your city/town.

Where do I get my declaration of candidacy form?

The declaration of candidacy is available at the local board of canvassers in each city and town and at the Secretary of State's Elections Division. There is one generic declaration of candidacy to be used by all candidates. You will fill in the required information and check off the appropriate boxes. You must file a separate declaration of candidacy for every office you seek. For example, if you wish to run for a public office and a party office, such as representative in General Assembly and representative district committee, you must complete two separate declarations of candidacy.

The declaration of candidacy form is also available at www.sos.ri.gov/elections/candidate You can complete the form on-line and print it out. You must then sign it, have your signature witnessed by two individuals and deliver or mail the form as indicated in the next section.

Where do I file my declaration of candidacy form?

If you wish to be a candidate for representative in Congress, Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General or General Treasurer, you must file your declaration of candidacy at the Office of the Secretary of State, Elections Division, 148 W. River Street, Providence, RI.

For all other offices (senator in the General Assembly, representative in the General Assembly, party committees and local offices), you must file your declaration of candidacy at the local board of canvassers in the city or town where you are registered to vote.

The declaration of candidacy that you file must contain original signatures. Your completed form may not be faxed or e-mailed.

When do I file my declaration of candidacy?

Your declaration of candidacy containing original signatures must be filed on June 28, 29 or 30.

If I am a Democrat, a Moderate or a Republican, can I file a declaration of candidacy as an independent candidate?

Yes. The following chart may help you to understand your filing options:

If you are registered as a:	And you wish to run as a:	Are you eligible to file a declaration:
Democrat	Democrat	YES
Democrat	Republican	NO*
Democrat	Moderate	NO*
Democrat	Independent	YES
Moderate	Moderate	YES
Moderate	Democrat	NO*
Moderate	Republican	NO*
Moderate	Independent	YES
Republican	Republican	YES
Republican	Democrat	NO*
Republican	Moderate	NO*
Republican	Independent	YES
Independent	Independent	YES
Independent	Democrat	YES
Independent	Republican	YES
Independent	Moderate	YES

*If you belong to one party and want to run under another party label, you must DISAFFILIATE 90 days prior to the date you will file your declaration of candidacy.

NOTE: In the preceding chart, Independent refers to unaffiliated.

Can I file a declaration of candidacy for more than one office?

In 2005, the General Assembly enacted Rhode Island Public Laws 05-347 (RIGL 17-14-2 as amended) prohibiting a candidate from filing a declaration of candidacy for more than one public state or local office in a primary or election.

State and local public offices are offices elected in an election. State public offices in 2010 are: Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, General Treasurer, senator in the General Assembly and representative in the General Assembly. Examples of local public offices are mayor, town administrator, council or school committee. For a full listing of local public offices in your city/town, contact your local board of canvassers.

However, if you file for a state or local public office, you can still file for party offices. Party offices are offices elected in a primary, i.e. Democratic, Moderate and Republican city/town committees, senatorial district committees, representative district committees, ward committees and democratic state committee.

For example, you may file a declaration of candidacy as a Democrat for representative in the General Assembly and another declaration of candidacy as a Democrat for your Democratic representative district committee.

Additionally, you may NOT file for the same office under different labels.

For example, you may NOT file a declaration of candidacy for senator in the General Assembly as a Democrat and file a declaration for senator in the General Assembly as an independent/unaffiliated candidate.

If I am an independent/unaffiliated voter, and file a declaration of candidacy as a party candidate, does that automatically make me a member of that party?

Yes. For example, if you are an independent/unaffiliated voter and file a declaration of candidacy as a Democrat, you are automatically recorded as a member of the Democratic Party. Filing a declaration of candidacy is sufficient to bind you to that party even if you do not circulate nomination papers, or you do not vote in the primary.

Disaffiliation

What is disaffiliation?

When you no longer wish to be a member of a particular party, you must sign a form to “disaffiliate” from that party. Forms are available at the local boards of canvassers.

When do I have to disaffiliate?

If you want to run as a candidate for a party other than the one to which you belong, you must disaffiliate 90 days before you file your declaration of candidacy.

If you are registered as a:	And you wish to run as a:	Are you required to disaffiliate:
Democrat	Republican	YES
Democrat	Moderate	YES
Democrat	Independent	NO
Moderate	Democrat	YES
Moderate	Republican	YES
Moderate	Independent	NO
Republican	Democrat	YES
Republican	Moderate	YES
Republican	Independent	NO
Independent	Democrat	NO*
Independent	Republican	NO*
Independent	Moderate	NO*

*By declaring to be a candidate in a primary, you will then become a member of that party.

NOTE: In the preceding chart, Independent refers to unaffiliated.

What is the deadline to disaffiliate?

If you are planning on running as a candidate for a party other than the party to which you currently belong, you must disaffiliate 90 days prior to the date you will file your declaration of candidacy. For the 2010 primary, you must disaffiliate no later than March 30, 31 or April 1, depending on the date your declaration of candidacy is filed.

If you file your declaration of candidacy on:	You must file your disaffiliation, if necessary, no later than:
June 28	March 30
June 29	March 31
June 30	April 1

Where can I disaffiliate?

You must file your disaffiliation with the local board of canvassers in the city or town where you are registered to vote.

You can also file your disaffiliation by completing a new mail-in voter registration form, keeping in mind that the mailed registration form must be received by the above deadlines.

Endorsements

What is an endorsement?

This is the process whereby party officials designate a person to be the candidate representing their party in a primary, and if no primary, in the election.

Who makes the endorsements?

It depends on the office for which you are running. The following chart should help:

For the office of:	Endorsements are made by:
Representative in Congress Governor Lt. Governor Secretary of State Attorney General General Treasurer	State Committee
Senator in General Assembly Senatorial District Committee	Senatorial District Committee
Representative in General Assembly Representative District Committee Democratic State Committee	Representative District Committee
Local Offices City/Town Committee Member Ward Committee Member	City/Town/Ward Committee

Where are the endorsements filed?

It depends on the office to be endorsed. The following chart should help:

For the office of:	Endorsements are filed at:
Representative in Congress Governor Lt. Governor Secretary of State Attorney General General Treasurer	Secretary of State
Senator in General Assembly* Representative in General Assembly*	Local Board Where Candidate Resides
Senatorial District Committee*	Local Board Where Endorsed Senate Candidate Resides
Representative District Committee*	Local Board Where Endorsed Representative Candidate Resides
Democratic State Committee*	Local Board Where Endorsed Representative Candidate Resides
Local Offices City/Town Committees Ward Committees	Local Board of Canvassers

* For Providence only: Endorsements of candidates for senator in the General Assembly, representative in the General Assembly, or senatorial, representative district committee or democratic state committee in the city of Providence must be filed at the Secretary of State's Elections Division, 148 W. River Street, Providence, RI.

How many signatures are required on endorsements?

In the case of an endorsement filed by a city, town or ward committee, three officers of the committee must sign the endorsement paper.

In the case of an endorsement filed by a senatorial or representative district committee, a majority of the members of the committee must sign. For example, if a senatorial district committee has seven members, a minimum of four members must sign the endorsement.

When are endorsements filed?

City, town and ward committees must file their endorsements of local candidates no later than July 1. Representative and senatorial district committees must file their endorsements no later than July 1.

State committees must file their endorsements of federal and statewide candidates no later than July 2. On July 2, state committees also must file endorsements with local boards of canvassers for state and local candidates where the city, town or district committee has failed or neglected to do so.

What happens if I am the endorsed candidate for a public office?

If you are the endorsed candidate for a public office such as senator in the General Assembly or town council, you will be issued nomination papers and you must submit the required number of signatures in order to qualify to be on the ballot.

What happens if I am the endorsed candidate for a party committee office?

If you are the endorsed candidate for a party office such as representative district committee or town committee, you do not need to gather signatures. The filing of the endorsement by the particular committee is sufficient to nominate you to the party office.

What happens if I am not endorsed and I want to run as a party candidate for public office?

If you are an unendorsed candidate for a public office such as senator in the General Assembly or town council, you will be issued nomination papers and you must submit the required number of valid signatures in order to qualify to be on the ballot.

What happens if I am not endorsed and I want to run as a party candidate for a party committee office?

If you are an unendorsed candidate for a party office such as representative district committee or town committee, you will be issued nomination papers and you must submit the required number of valid signatures in order to qualify to be on the ballot.

Nomination Papers

What are nomination papers?

Nomination papers are the forms on which you will obtain valid signatures, that is, signatures of registered voters who are eligible to vote for the office that you are seeking. In order to be on the ballot, you will need to obtain a specified number of valid signatures on your nomination papers. Please refer to the following chart to determine the number of signatures required.

How many signatures are required on nomination papers in order to qualify?

If you are running for:	You will need the following number of valid signatures:
Representative in Congress	500
Governor	1,000
Lt. Governor	500
Secretary of State	500
Attorney General	500
General Treasurer	500
Senator in the General Assembly	100
Representative in the General Assembly	50
Senate and Representative	50
District Committees (Unendorsed only)
Democratic State Committee	50
(Unendorsed only)
Local Offices	Check with your local Board of Canvassers.

Who needs nomination papers?

All candidates for federal, state and local public office need nomination papers.

The only candidates who do NOT need nomination papers are ENDORSED candidates for party committees (i.e. state democratic, district, city, town or ward committees.) However, UNENDORSED candidates for state democratic, district, city, town or ward committees MUST gather signatures on nomination papers.

When and where do I get my nomination papers?

You may pick up your nomination papers on July 7.

If you are running for representative in Congress, Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General or General Treasurer, you must obtain your nomination papers from the Secretary of State's Elections Division, 148 W. River Street, Providence, RI.

Nomination papers for all other offices (senator in the General Assembly, representative in the General Assembly, party committees and local office) must be obtained from the local board of canvassers where you filed your declaration of candidacy, except for Providence.

For Providence Candidates Only: If you are a candidate for senator in the General Assembly, representative in the General Assembly, senatorial or representative district committee or democratic state committee in the city of Providence, you must obtain your nomination papers from the Secretary of State's Elections Division, 148 W. River Street, Providence, RI.

All persons other than candidates picking up nomination papers from the Secretary of State's Elections Division must have written authorization from the candidate.

Who can sign my nomination papers and do they have to be a member of the same party?

ANY registered voter may sign your nomination papers if the registered voter is eligible to vote for the office for which you seek election. For example, a voter who is registered in the First Congressional District can sign your papers if you are running for the office of representative in Congress in District 1, but that voter cannot sign your nomination papers if you are running for the office of representative in Congress in District 2.

The voter DOES NOT need to be a member of the political party listed on the nomination paper. Example: a registered Democrat can sign the nomination papers of a Democratic candidate, a Moderate candidate, a Republican candidate or an independent/unaffiliated candidate.

Does it make a difference which of my papers a voter signs?

Yes. At the top of each nomination paper there is a space for you to indicate the city/town in which the signers are registered voters. You must have registered voters sign nomination papers from the city or town in which they are registered to vote. You cannot mix registered voters from different cities or towns on the same nomination paper.

Example: a registered voter in Providence must sign a nomination paper that lists "Providence" at the top of the paper. This is the paper that you will return to the Providence Board of Canvassers; the Providence Board of Canvassers will certify signatures on this paper. If a Cranston voter signs a Providence nomination paper, that signature will not be certified since the nomination paper will be reviewed only by Providence.

If a voter signs a nomination paper of a party candidate, does that automatically make the voter a member of that party?

No. The act of signing nomination papers does not make the voter a member of that political party. Example: signing the nomination paper of a Democratic candidate does not make the signer a member of the Democratic Party.

How many papers can a person sign?

There is no restriction on the number of candidates for whom a person can sign nomination papers for federal and state candidates. However, your signature can only be counted once for each candidate.

Some local charters limit the number of candidates for whom a person can sign nomination papers for local offices. Check with your local board of canvassers.

When do I return my nomination papers?

The deadline for all candidates to return nomination papers to the appropriate local board of canvassers is July 16 at 4 p.m.

Where do I return my nomination papers?

Your completed nomination papers must be returned to the local board of canvassers in the city or town listed at the top of the nomination paper.

How do I know if I qualified for ballot placement?

Candidates for federal and state office can call the Secretary of State's Elections Division or visit www.sos.ri.gov/candidates. As certified nomination papers are received from the local boards, we will enter the number of valid signatures for each candidate into our database. This information will be updated at the end of each day during the nomination paper certification process (July 7 through July 22) with the final posting available after the close of business on July 22.

Candidates for local office can check with their local board of canvassers.

Withdrawal of Candidacy

If I file a declaration of candidacy, can I decide not to run?

Yes. As a party or independent/unaffiliated candidate for local office, you may withdraw no later than July 19. Your withdrawal must be filed with the local board of canvassers where you are registered to vote.

Your withdrawal as a party nominee or independent/unaffiliated candidate for federal or state office must be filed with the Secretary of State's Elections Division no later than July 23.

Can I withdraw as a candidate after I file my nomination papers?

Yes. As a party or independent/unaffiliated candidate for local office, you may withdraw no later than July 19. Withdrawals from local offices must be filed with the local board of canvassers where you filed your declaration of candidacy.

Withdrawals for federal and state offices must be filed with the Secretary of State's Elections Division, 148 W. River Street, Providence, RI no later than July 23.

Can I withdraw if I am the party's nominee for the office that I am seeking?

Yes. If you are the party's nominee for the office that you are seeking (i.e. you are the candidate that will appear on the November ballot for your party), you can withdraw.

Keep in mind that you have to withdraw by September 17 in order for the party to name another candidate to fill the vacancy.

Ballot Arrangement - Primary

Will there be a primary for the office that I am seeking?

A primary is necessary when two or more individuals from the same political party qualify for ballot placement for the same office.

There would be no primary for the office you seek if: (1) no one else filed a valid declaration of candidacy as a party candidate from the same party for the same office that you are seeking; (2) no one else filed timely nomination papers containing the requisite number of signatures for the same office that you are seeking under the same party label; or (3) the other candidate(s) who qualified for the same office under the same party label withdrew according to state law.

In primaries where the voter casts a vote for more than one candidate for an office, there is no primary when the number of candidates qualified for ballot placement equals or is less than the number to be elected. For example, in a town council race where the voters are allowed to vote for any five, there is no primary when the number of candidates from the same political party qualified for ballot placement is five or less individuals from the same political party.

If I run as a candidate for public office, when does my name appear on the primary ballot?

Names of federal, state and local candidates for public office where there is a primary appear on the September 14 ballot.

Please note that the names of unopposed party candidates for federal and state office also appear on the primary ballot. However, when there is no primary opposition for the office you are seeking, you are automatically the nominee of your party for said public office and your name will also appear on the November ballot.

Names of unopposed party candidates for local office do not appear on the primary ballot.

If I run as a candidate for a party committee, when does my name appear on the ballot?

Party committees are elected at the time of the primary being held for the party. For example, senatorial and representative district committees will be elected on September 14.

In elections for party committees where the voter casts a vote for more than one candidate for an office (i.e. vote for any five members of a senatorial district committee), there is no election when the number of candidates qualified for ballot placement equals or is less than the number to be elected. In this case, party committee candidates for said committee are automatically elected to the positions and their names do not appear on the ballot.

How will my name appear on the primary ballot?

Your name will be printed on the ballot as it appears on the voting list.

How is my ballot placement determined if I am a candidate in a primary?

The endorsed candidate for each federal, state and local office will appear first directly under the title of office that is being sought and will have an asterisk (*) preceding his or her name. For local offices where there is more than one endorsed candidate, the names of the endorsed candidates shall be listed in the order in which they were certified to the Secretary of State's Elections Division by the local board of canvassers.

The unendorsed candidate or candidates for federal and state offices will follow on the ballot. If there is more than one unendorsed candidate, they will be listed on the ballot in the order chosen by a lottery conducted by the Secretary of State.

The unendorsed candidate or candidates for local offices will be listed in alphabetical order following the name or names of the endorsed candidate or candidates.

When are the lotteries conducted for ballot placement for the primary?

The Secretary of State will conduct a lottery on July 23 at 5 p.m., in the Governor's State Room, State House, to determine ballot placement for unendorsed federal and state party candidates for primary ballots.

Ballot Arrangement - Election

How will my name appear on the election ballot?

Your name will be printed on the ballot as it appears on the voting list. Party candidates will be listed on the ballot along with the name of their political party. Independent/unaffiliated candidates will be listed on the ballot along with the name of their "political principle, movement or organization" in small print or the word "Independent" when no "political principle, movement or organization" is listed on the candidate's declaration of candidacy.

How is my ballot placement determined if I am a candidate in the election?

The order in which the political parties appear on the election ballot is determined by a lottery conducted by the Secretary of State. The order in which federal and state independent/unaffiliated candidates appear on the ballot beneath the party candidates is also determined by a lottery conducted by the Secretary of State. Local city/town selects method of ballot placement.

When are the lotteries conducted for ballot placement for the election?

The Secretary of State will conduct a lottery on July 23 at 5 p.m. in the Governor's State Room, State House, to determine ballot placement of party candidates and federal and state independent/unaffiliated candidates for the election ballots.

NOTE: The determinations in this booklet are a matter of interpretation and are intended solely as a guide. They do not constitute official interpretation of state law. All statutory references are to Title 17 of the General Laws, 1956, as amended, as of December 31, 2009.

Election Day Activities

Are there any restrictions on activities at the polling places on Election Day?

Rhode Island General Law, Section 17-19-49, currently prohibits the display or distribution of any poster, paper, circular or document that would aid, injure or defeat any candidate for public office or any political party or any question on the ballot.

This law prohibits such display within the voting place or within fifty feet of the entrance or entrances to the building in which voting is taking place at any primary or election.

Election officials, that is, wardens, moderators, clerks and bi-partisan supervisors, assigned to a polling place are also prohibited from displaying or wearing any political party button, badge or other device that is intended to aid, injure or defeat the candidacy of any person for public office or any question on the ballot or to intimidate or influence any voter.

The Board of Elections has oversight of the conduct of elections at polling places and that office should be contacted if you have any specific questions as to what campaigning is allowed.

Campaign Financing

For state and local candidates, Title 17, Chapter 25 of the Rhode Island General Laws entitled "Rhode Island Campaign Contributions and Expenditures Reporting" governs campaign financing.

The Campaign Finance Division of the Board of Elections administers this chapter of the Rhode Island General Laws. The Board of Elections also promulgates rules and regulations regarding campaign financing.

The Campaign Finance Division provides information relative to campaign financing reporting requirements as well as information on contribution and expenditure limits and restrictions relative to financing a campaign.

The Campaign Finance Division will also provide information regarding public financing of election campaigns of candidates for statewide general offices.

Ethics Commission

Filing

Candidates for state or municipal elected office are required to file a financial disclosure statement with the Rhode Island Ethics Commission within thirty (30) days of the deadline for filing a declaration of candidacy. See R.I. Gen. Laws § 36-14-16(c). Upon written request, the Commission may grant an extension of not more than fifteen (15) days, provided that the request for extension is received by the Commission prior to the original filing deadline. See R.I. Gen. Laws § 36-14-16(d).

The financial disclosure form requires, among other things, the disclosure of sources of certain income and assets, including those of a spouse and any dependent children. You need not disclose amounts of income or value of assets. Candidates also must disclose whether they, a spouse or dependent child hold an interest in any business regulated by Rhode Island government, or in any enterprise which engages in business with the government. Additionally, candidates must disclose the name and address of any person, business or organization (other than a credit card company or the holder of your residential mortgage) which is owed more than $ 1,000 by the official, a spouse or a dependant child.

For further information regarding your filing requirements, or to obtain a blank financial disclosure form for filing, contact the Ethics Commission at:
